Your home is shaping your family

A free 60-minute workshop for parents

Ever noticed how some rooms make you feel calm, while others leave everyone on edge? There's a reason for that.

Your home does more than look nice. The way it's set up shapes how you feel, which habits stick, and how the family gets through the day, from the school run to bedtime.

Come along for a relaxed, informal session on the science behind it, and simple ways to make your home work better for your family.
